

One narrative, copied verbatim across the context-bearing channels

Each narrative is copied 43 times on average per patient

(median 43, up to 83 for the most complex presentations) — no copy adds information beyond the single source